

Dear Parent,

Greetings from Al Khozama!

Success without Stress: The Science of Smart Learning & Better Marks

The Right Way for Every Child

As a parent, have you ever wondered...

- Are better results always associated only with hard work?
- Can my child significantly improve their performance, regardless of their current level?
- Is there something more I can do beyond what I am already doing?
- Do I need subject expertise to effectively support my child's learning?

These are questions every concerned parent naturally reflects upon.

As part of our PALM (Parents As Life Mentors) series, Al Khozama International School invites you to an insightful session that brings together the latest understanding from neuroscience, data science, and technology—to help you support your child's learning in a smarter and more meaningful way.
